

Countless books have been written exposing the many serious problems that are threatening the existence of the system of middle class freedom that our founders constructed for us. If we are ever to mount an effort to solve these many problems, numerous laws must be changed, making Congress the institution which must take the lead. This book offers up a plan for the Congress to do just that. The 2010 elections have produced a small Constitutional Quorum which can begin the effort to increase their own numbers and to start moving Congress down the path to Constitutionalism. Many of our ruling establishment's sacred cows are targeted, including media, electoral, and candidate honesty, our country's monetary and fiscal systems, the income tax, and the free trade disaster. Social Security, Medicare, the drug trade, and illegal immigration are taken on. The Constitution's Tenth Amendment and its checks and balances will be utilized. We shall adhere to George Washington's admonitions to stay out of foreign entanglements, and will resign from the UN, the IMF, the WTO, and other establishment agencies. By 2014, we should be well on our way down this path, with our economy and our world standing on the road to recovery.
