

Three Caribbean short stories that have to do with flying! From Grommit, the vulture that falls first from its nest and then in love with a human lady, to Squirrel Coconuts, who ends up by mistake in the hold of a plane and has to find his place in Hyde Park in London, to a little boy who becomes a castaway on a little deserted island and has to engage a flock of pelicans to carry him back home: these exciting children stories from Trinidad and Tobago are unmistakably written by a pilot! Illustrations by Andy Campbell and Jean Claude Salvatori Photographs by Alice Besson and Noel Norton Andy Campbell is a retired commercial pilot and wrote these adventure stories during his layovers in hotels in London and New York.
